JOHAN TIMMERMANS - GUITAR

PALOMA LÁZARO ARTEAGA - VOICE

Hiedra means ivy in Spanish

Ivy that tangles, ancient ivy that sprouts in a forgotten corner, ivy of a patio, of grandmothers and summer.

Ivy that climbs like music, strings and fingers, silence and voice.

Ivy that travels through the centuries and takes root in our hands.

This is music of ancestors.

Hiedra is a duo formed by Spanish singer Paloma Lázaro Arteaga and Dutch guitarist Johan Timmermans.

Together they reinvent and reinterpret traditional and folk music from Spain and Latin America, mixed with original compositions and with influences of Arabic, Middle Eastern and Flamenco music.

Their audience will be taken on a musical journey through folk and dreamy sounds brought to them in an intimate and intense setting for voice and guitar.

Paloma Lázaro Arteaga

Is a Spanish singer and composer that uses her voice to reach a world beyond that is only available through music.

She is studying jazz vocals at the Academy of Music and Performing arts in Tilburg, after years of studying classical voice, classical piano and free improvisation in Spain.

She has developed a unique sound blending her Spanish roots and her jazz and classical skills together with her own poetry and physical expression.

Johan Timmermans

Is a Dutch self taught and, afterwards, classically trained all-round guitarist who focusses on bringing classical and popular world music to his audience. Only starting at age 18, he taught himself how to play a diverse repertoire before starting and finishing his conservatory education in Tilburg.

He loves expressing himself in diverse live settings; from solo performances and ensemble formations to immersive theater experiences and playing bass in reggae bands; Johan is always looking for new adventures and collaborations to expand his artistic endeavours.
